

Prasad K. Chode, MD

PRIMARY CARE PHYSICIAN

I knew as a child that I wanted to become a doctor to help patients to recover from their ailments. I started working in healthcare in 1992, and I've been with CareMore Health since 2015. I am board certified in internal medicine, and I have expertise in taking care of complex patients with multiple medical conditions by providing them with good access to outpatient follow-up to prevent future hospitalizations. In my free time, I enjoy playing tennis and spending time with my family, especially my grandchildren.

Education: Bachelor's degree from Andhra University

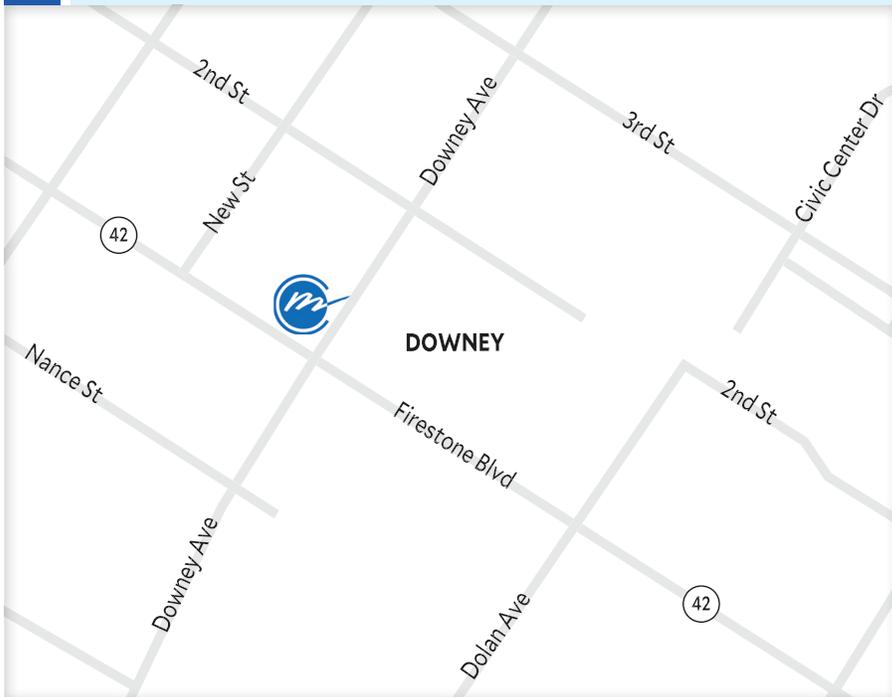

Medical degree from Rangaraya
Medical College

Residency: Long Island College Hospital

Office Language: English, Telugu

“ I like CareMore because they believe in providing comprehensive care to the patient as a whole. ”
